

SNEED HEARING SET FOR TODAY

SIXTY-ONE WITNESSES HAVE BEEN SUMMONED TO TESTI-FY AT AMARILLO.

INVESTIGATION OF EPTING

Grand Jury to Take Up Charge That He Planned With Sneed to Kill Boyce.

Amarillo, Tex., Sept. 22.—The habeas corpus proceedings in the case of John Beal Sneed, indicted on the charge of killing Al G. Boyce, Jr., who seeks to have bail fixed, will begin at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon before Judge J. N. Browning, of the Forty-Seventh district court. Sixty-one witnesses have been summoned, forty-eight for the state and thirteen for the defendant. Two of these are from Fort Worth, four from Dallas and most of the others from Amarillo and Potter county. Among the witnesses from Dallas, who have arrived here are W. H. Steele, at whose home Mrs. Lena Snyder Sneed is said to have visited. Mrs. Lee W. Rogers, who had apartments at the Heiger avenue home in Dallas, where Mr. and Mrs. Sneed and children lived for five weeks during July and August, and Joe Barr, a bartender, who is said to have seen Boyce in Dallas.

Grand Jury Meets Today.
The grand jury, which took a recess last week after returning an indictment against Sneed, will again meet tomorrow morning, and it is supposed, begin an investigation of the charge against Beach B. Epting of being Sneed's accomplice in the killing of Boyce. Many of the same witnesses who were used in the Sneed investigation last week are to be recalled.

A new complaint signed by Sheriff Burwell has been filed. It refers to the alleged killing of Boyce by John Beal Sneed, and alleges that Epting unlawfully agreed with Sneed to aid him and did prepare aid for the purpose of assisting him. Upon the filing of this complaint a warrant was issued for the arrest of Epting, and the warrant was served upon him at the county jail.

Epting Declines to Talk.
When Epting was seen at the jail he declined to give out any statement until he had opportunity to talk with an attorney, which probably would not be for a day or so.

In response to questions concerning his place of residence and occupation he stated that he might later give out a complete history of himself. Epting appears to be about 33 years of age and has a wife and six small children. The eldest is 19 years of age and the youngest 19 months. He is 5 feet 5 inches in height and weighs 150 pounds. He is of dark complexion and has dark hair, but not black, is smooth shaven and has gray eyes and is stoop-shouldered, having the appearance of a hard-working man. There is a noticeable peculiarity about his front teeth. He has rather high cheek bones, and altogether the contour of his face is such as to make him a man easily identified. He wears a black soft hat and grayish like clothes.

It is stated that he came into Paducah on the train last Sunday morning from Quannah and said he heard Sneed had killed Boyce, but he seemed to know none of the particulars. There is also a report that he has been absent from Paducah for about six weeks.

TAFT LEAVES BEVERLY

WILL OPEN HYGIENE CONGRESS AT BOSTON.

To Be Guest of Honor at Emancipation Day Celebration—Brief Stop in New York.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 22.—President Taft left Beverly tonight by motor for Boston on a three days' trip to Washington, New York and Altoona, Pa. In Washington tomorrow the president will address the opening meeting of the International Congress on Hygiene and Demography, receive delegates to the National Conference of Catholic Charities and attend a night meeting under the auspices of the National Emancipation Society. He will be in New York for more than eight hours Tuesday and expects to see Chairman Hillier, of the republican national committee, George R. Shelton, its treasurer, and probably state leaders.

Leaving New York Tuesday night, the president will arrive in Altoona Wednesday and become the guest of the Loyal War Governors' Conference. He will return to Boston by way of Philadelphia Wednesday night, reaching Beverly Thursday morning.

Before the president left Beverly tonight, white house officials made public a letter written to John W. Thompson, president of the Western New York League of Republicans, Rochester, N. Y., giving his comments on emancipation day and the courage of President Lincoln.

To Aid Her Husband in His Candidacy

Mrs. Oscar S. Straus.

New York, Sept. 22.—There was jubilation among the women who have banded themselves together to work throughout the city for the election of the Bell Moose ticket when it was learned that Mrs. Oscar Straus, wife of the Progressive candidate for governor of New York, would join them actively in their campaign. The satisfaction at this step by Mrs. Straus felt by the other Moosettes was due not only to the great practical value of her help, but also to the fact that they take it as a sign that she has been converted to suffragism.

DEMAND FORCES BE WITHDRAWN

CIRCULAR SIGNED BY POLITICAL LEADERS OF COSTA RICA SENT TO WASHINGTON.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Immediate withdrawal of the armed forces of the United States in Nicaragua is demanded in a circular drawn up by residents of San Jose, Costa Rica, copies of which reached this city today. A copy of the circular has been handed the American minister at Costa Rica, but as yet he has made no report to the state department.

Officials at the department tonight said that no importance is to be attached to the circular. The policy of the United States in dealing with the uprising in Nicaragua is set forth in a note recently made public by the state department has made public with the unqualified approval of representatives of Costa Rica and the other Central American republics stationed here.

The circular asks that the troops be withdrawn "in the name of humanity" and declares in vigorous language that Central Americans resent the measures taken by the United States. It is signed by some of the prominent political leaders of Costa Rica.

Confirmation of the reported occupancy of Granada by Admiral Southard was received at the state department in a dispatch from the admiral. The dispatch indicated that the passage from Managua was made without serious opposition from the rebels. Apparently no shots were fired after the advance guard of the American forces was halted near Mayaguez. It is believed the man reportedly injured by rebels was struck by missiles hurled at the train by sympathizers.

With United States forces policing Granada and the railroad between that city and Managua, officials here believe that the situation is well in hand.

TWO KILLED IN WRECK.

Sunday Excursion Train in Collision
Near Friendship, N. Y.

Friendship, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Two persons were killed and a score injured, three probably fatally, tonight when an excursion train on the Pittsburgh, Shawmut and Northern railroad collided with a train at Nile, two miles west of here. The dead are:

W. A. HARRIS, Filmore, N. Y.
MISS GRACE MARSH, Portville, N. Y.

Policeman Kills Prowler.
Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 22.—John E. Wright, aged 23, was shot and killed early today by Patrolman E. H. Parham, while trying to escape arrest. He had been prowling about the rear of a private home, the owner of which had notified the police some one was trying to steal his cow, according to the police. Parham answered the call and when Wright disregarded the order to halt the officer fired with fatal results.

Hilles Confers at Chicago.
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 22.—Chairman Charles D. Hilles of the republican national committee arrived from New York today and held several conferences with the managers in charge of the western republican headquarters. Chairman Hilles left tonight for Detroit, where he will discuss the situation in Michigan with friends of President Taft.

TELLEZ HEADS MEXICAN ARMY

GENERAL HUERTA IS GRANTED
LEAVE OF ABSENCE TO HAVE HIS EYES TREATED.

REBELS ARE IN COAHUILA

General Orozco Believed to Be Near Torreón—Scene of Federal Operations Is to Shift.

Mexico City, Sept. 22.—General Tellez has been placed in command of the government troops in the operations against the rebels in the northern part of Mexico succeeding General Huerta, who has been granted temporary leave in order to have his eyes treated. It is believed that it will be many weeks before General Huerta will be again able to assume command.

That the scene of operations must be shifted rapidly is indicated by the news of rebel movements in Coahuila and in the Laguna district about Torreón. Just where Gen. Pascual Orozco is operating is yet a mystery to the war department but apparently excellent reasons led to the belief that he is either with Caraveo near Musquiz or with a new and large group operating just west and north of Torreón near the Refugio Mountains. The rebels who appeared in both of these localities are well armed and undoubtedly fighting under the banner of Orozco.

Word was brought to Torreón last night by courier that the rebel force near the Refugio mountains defeated a small body of 700 federal Thursday. These operations near Musquiz are said to be more than holding their own.

Although the situation at Oaxaca has been relieved and its garrison strengthened today by 400 men, the situation generally throughout the south is improved.

The village of Chapultepec, two miles from Cuernavaca, was sacked again yesterday by Zapatistas and reports of the raiding of haciendas and small towns in all of the states affected are being received daily. In the state of Mexico increased activity has been displayed. General Orozco De Lao, who appears to be the dominating character in that region, last week established headquarters at San Simón Alto and threatened to sack Tenancingo in revenge for the recent defeat administered by the government troops.

FEDERALS TRAPPED.

Fired Upon From Ambush and Narrowly Escape Annihilation.

Monterrey, Mex., Sept. 22.—A small body of federals, numbering about one hundred, who were sent to drive the rebels from Labab ranch, escaped annihilation, but were completely routed, although it is said only ten were killed. The news of the defeat was brought here today by one fleeing soldier who said that the federals had gained La Rosita Pass and there for three hours sustained the rebel fire and, due to the excellent location, held the position, losing none of their men. The rebels then ceased firing and withdrew, apparently abandoning their efforts.

The federals, thinking the enemy group, resumed their march and fell into the ambush. The whereabouts of Major Villareal, who commanded the federals, is unknown. General Blanquet, who has been stationed at Pedernales, is said to be on the way to Musquiz at the head of a strong force to deal vengeance.

With Marcel Caraveo, commanding the rebels, is said to be one of the Garza Galan brothers, who is believed to be the author of the new revolutionary movement which developed a few weeks ago in the state of Coahuila. Andres Garza Galan, head of the family, is now in San Antonio, Texas.

Capture Rebels on U. S. Territory.
Tucson, Ariz., Sept. 22.—Fifteen Mexican rebels were captured today on American territory 13 miles southwest of this city by deputy sheriffs. The rebels were believed to have been on their way to Casas Grandes to obtain ammunition. Twelve of the rebels were caught in one group. The others were discovered in the bottom of a produce wagon which the American officers passed later. All were given into the custody of the United States authorities.

Gates P. Thurston Dead.
Nashville, Sept. 22.—Gates P. Thurston Jr., son of Gen. Gates P. Thurston of Nashville, died today at Winnetka, Ill., where he had been under treatment for nervous collapse since June 1. He was 28 years old.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.
Temperatures furnished by Dr. I. Block, voluntary weather observer, for 24 hours ending Sunday evening at 7 o'clock: Minimum 55, maximum 82. Barometer 30.66.

Weather Forecast.
Washington, Sept. 22.—Forecast: Oklahoma, East Texas and West Texas—Fair Monday and Tuesday. Louisiana—Fair in northwest; rain in southeast portion Monday; Tuesday fair.

Sympathy for Strikers.
Duluth, Minn., Sept. 22.—A mass meeting at the armory this evening to express sympathy for the striking street car men was largely attended. The strike situation was quiet tonight both here and in Superior.

Men Who Are Making Waco

—Sketched from Life by Gilbert, Staff Cartoonist, Morning News.

Being postmaster of a city the size of Waco is a position that allows no loafing time, but with his many duties Postmaster W. H. Hoffmann finds time to do his part in the making of Waco. When Mr. Hoffmann first came to this town he was a representative of a public service corporation—an express company. It did not take long for him to win his way into the good graces of the people, because he recognized more than any man ever has recognized that the public is entitled to consideration from those who handle the affairs of the common carriers. He was accommodating, courteous and energetic; the business of his company increased because it was being handled by his manner of man; the public liked him; he looked after the interests of the public. When he became postmaster he carried into that federal office the same courtesy and accommodation which had marked his former dealings with the people. His office is one of system; he realizes that it is in close touch with the people more than any other federal department, and he seeks to make it convenient for the people. He keeps it clean and attractive; the employees of his office have the same courtesy that he shows, and it is a pleasure to have dealings with them.

But Mr. Hoffmann does not let his postoffice work be the finish of his interest in Waco. He is active in all things that are for the making of the town. He goes with the business men on their trade excursions, and is one of the liveliest wires in the crowd; he joins with the business organizations in what they seek to do for Waco; he is first to say "I will" when there is a call for volunteers, and his help, his influence and his advice have been valuable.

It is fitting that this man should head the Cotton Palace organization as its president. He has worked hard to make that exposition a success, and in the making of that is a part of the making of Waco. He is now bending his efforts that the show this year will be the most attractive ever in Texas and with the growth of the Cotton Palace will come the growth of the town, by reason of the favorable impression Waco will make upon those who are drawn to this city by the invitation the Cotton Palace is sending out to the world. Truly, Mr. Hoffmann is one of "the men who are making Waco."

REBELS' DIPLOMAT TO U. S. IS ARRESTED AT EL PASO

El Paso, Sept. 22.—Senor Juan Pedro Didapp, diplomatic representative in the United States, was arrested here today by L. S. Ross of the United States department of justice, said to be wanted in San Antonio. Didapp arrived here yesterday and made no attempt to conceal his whereabouts.

Didapp's arrest was on a warrant issued in San Antonio some weeks ago, charging violation of neutrality during the former Vasquez Gomez revolution. Didapp came here for the announced purpose of meeting United States Senators Wm. Alden Smith and A. B. Fall, who will arrive in El Paso tomorrow from Los Angeles to continue their probe of the Mexican revolution.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Juan Pedro Didapp, arrested at El Paso today on charges of violating the neutrality laws, left Washington hurriedly last week. He had been here for some time, claiming first to represent Orozco, then the Vasquez Gomez faction and finally General Zapata. Gomez had repudiated him. Under the Diaz administration Didapp was consul general at Constantinople and later consul at Norfolk, Va.

MARTIAL LAW EXTENDED NO POLITICS ON SUNDAY

MILITIA TIGHTENS LINE IN COAL STRIKE ZONE.

Commander of West Virginia Troops
Makes Preparations for a Long Siege in Kanawha County.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 22.—The state militia today tightened its line in the martial law district of Kanawha county, and state officials from Gov. Glasscock down are apparently preparing for a long siege in the trouble zone. The failure of yesterday's conference called by Gov. Glasscock to bring about some solution of the coal strike in the Paint and Cabinet creeks resulted in an order from Brig. Gen. Chas. D. Elliott, dividing the martial law territory into two zones.

Martial law now prevails along the south side of the Kanawha river for eight miles between Cabinet and Paint creeks and a mile on the side of the mouth on the east. It reaches up these two creeks in some cases thirty-one miles, and the mountainous character of the country presents great difficulties for following up depredators. The zone ranges from eight to twenty miles in breadth.

O'Gorman to Call on Wilson.
New York, Sept. 22.—Acting Chairman William G. McAdoo of the democratic national committee and Senator James O'Gorman left for Seagirt today to confer with Governor Wilson. Both men disclaimed that the purpose of their trip was to discuss the New York state situation with the presidential candidate.

Dramatist Grandillet Dead.
Paris, Sept. 22.—Leon Grandillet, the dramatist, died at his home here today.

KATY BUYING STEEL RAILS

MAY MEAN EXTENSION TO CON-NECT WITH TRINITY AND COLMESNEIL ORPHAN.

BIG WORK ON IN WACO

Following Completion of Grading in East Yards Here Track is Being Laid.

New York, Sept. 22.—The most important development in the steel situation last week was the placing of contracts for 300,000 tons of rails, mainly for 1913 shipment. The New York Central is the first of the large eastern systems to cover its next year's requirements, having just distributed orders for 150,000 tons of standard sections. Other rail contracts placed include 5000 tons additional for the Santa Fe, 10,000 for the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, 10,000 for the Harriman lines and 6000 tons for export to China.

The principal feature of interest in the structural trade was the placing of the contract for 25,000 tons of fabricated shapes for the Equitable building with the American Bridge company. All the large steel companies are now quoting 1.35 cents for the first quarter of next year, but it is believed that the steel corporation is determined to check any further advance on prices on this movement. In line with such a policy the American Sheet and Tin Plate company is now accepting business for tin plate for 1913 shipment on the basis of $2.60 per box, but blue enameled sheets were advanced $1 per ton. Heavy sales of pig iron were followed by a further advance of 25 to 50 cents each, but buyers are now holding off.

The purchase of so much steel by the Katy indicates continued improvements along its lines and much of this is to come to Texas. Following the completion of the grading work in the east yards of Waco there will be need for a lot of the newly purchased steel.

The contractors are pushing the grading work and steel is going down as fast as possible. There are fifteen tracks on one side the right of way.

But the most significant part of the purchase is the probability of the Katy building to Beaumont or some point in that section of the state. The officers of the company have already made an overland trip of the route that will connect the main line of the road at Waco, or some point near here, with the "orphan" line in southeast Texas that runs from Trinity to Colmesneil, and there is a chance that some of the purchases are steel for such an extension.

TAFT UPHOLDS FISHER

REVOKES VALENTINE'S ORDER
BARRING RELIGIOUS GARB.

Former Indian Commissioner Gives
Out Statement Defending Position Taken by Him.

Brantree, Mass., Sept. 22.—"No religious question is or should be involved in this matter," says Former Indian Commissioner Robert G. Valentine, when informed that President Taft had upheld Secretary Fisher's action in revoking the order of Mr. Valentine, barring religious garb or insignia from government Indian schools. In a statement the former commissioner said:

"The schools to which my religious order applies are not private schools. They are public schools. Nothing should be allowed in them which would not be allowed in any public school in the country."

"This principle the president and the secretary of the interior now uphold in their order. They say that on this ground they will forbid the extension of the practice of wearing religious garb in public schools. In the next breath they say they will permit those fifty-one teachers who now wear garb in Indian schools to continue the practice."

"No religious question is or should be involved in this matter. I issued my order without referring to my superiors because I was within my rights in doing so and because I wished to save my superiors from any possible political embarrassment by keeping the decision of the question in non-political administration bureau of the government."

"My conduct of the Indian bureau included full recognition of the assistance of the Catholic church and of all the other religious denominations in Indian reservations and I expect and have every reason to believe that Catholics will join with all American citizens in support of the administration of the bureau, which is to fulfill its legal obligations to all the people."

Demand Lepers Be Isolated.
Washington, Sept. 22.—The health authorities of Spokane, Wash., have appealed to the public health service to isolate the family of Antonio Volcane, an Italian, on the ground that Volcane and his 11-year-old son are suffering from leprosy.

OIL INTERESTS OF TEXAS ARE AIRED IN NEW YORK

Evidence is Presented to Show the Standard is Continuing Its War on H. Clay Pierce--Is Federal Decree Being Violated?

New York, Sept. 22.—Texas has stood in the center of the oil trust investigation spotlight this week in New York. The financial world now knows more about the oil situation in Texas than it has learned in many a day. Testimony given at the hearings held in the case in which the Waters-Pierce Company is resisting the attempts of the Standard Oil interests to absorb the Missouri corporation has revealed many startling facts. The most sensational of these facts on the relation of the Magnolia Petroleum Company to the Standard Oil group of companies, formally ordered dissolved last year by a decree of the supreme court of the United States, and the history of the old Security Oil Company which forfeited its charter in Texas.

Standard Still in Control.
It must be said that Wall street does not seem to be overwhelmingly surprised at the appearance of any evidence which tends to show that the men at the head of the Standard Oil interests are in as full control of most of their former subsidiaries as they were before they were ordered by the supreme court to re-organize the separate companies and refrain from further conspiracy in restraint of trade. The street apparently has had the idea right along that Mr. Rockefeller and his associates knew what they were about and that they could be relied upon to conduct their business without any great annoyance from a simple supreme court decision. But financial New York, nevertheless, is intensely interested in the details of the plan which the Standard has worked out. Men of big business who are not on the inside of the oil situation seem to have somewhat the same curiosity concerning the inner workings of the Standard as the precious young American who knows that a watch runs but wants to open the case and see the "wheels go round."

The present series of hearings is a continuation of the ones held in this city several months ago when John D. Rockefeller was summoned to the witness stand. They are being presided over by Commissioner A. L. Jacobs, and the testimony taken will be submitted to the St. Louis circuit court where the action originated, when the case comes to trial next month. S. W. Fordyce, Jr., president and general counsel of the Pierce-Fordyce Oil Association of Texas, W. H. Gray of Houston, Frederick L. Judson of St. Louis and Samuel Untermyer of New York form the counsel for the Waters-Pierce interests while Daniel Kirby of St. Louis is appearing for the Standard Oil men summoned as witnesses.

Contention of Pierce.
In a nutshell the case is this: The Waters-Pierce company at a stockholders' meeting last February in St. Louis refused to permit representatives of the Standard group to vote proxies of the stock which the Standard of New Jersey had held in a block up to the time of its announced compliance with the supreme court decree of dissolution. The Waters-Pierce Company held that the voting of such stock would be a direct violation of the Missouri supreme court order which permitted it, after being formally ousted from the state, to continue in business under two conditions: that it pay a fine of $50,000 and refrain from entering into any combination with the Standard or any other company. The Waters-Pierce took the ground that the voting of stock held by Standard interests would mean the forfeiture of its charter. The Standard group's representatives, holding that their possession of a majority of the stock entitled them to elect the directors, went into Circuit Judge Kinsey's court at St. Louis and secured a writ of mandamus to compel the acceptance of their votes. The Waters-Pierce Company, in its reply, accused the old Standard group of still maintaining a conspiracy in restraint of trade in spite of the United States supreme court decree. The court authorized the company's attorneys to take testimony throughout the country to prove this charge. This is what is being done in New York.

Bayne Would Not Answer.
Samuel G. Bayne, who was president for nine years of the old Security Oil Company of Texas, undoubtedly was the center of interest to the general public during the week's hearings. He was belligerent and defiant. He refused to reply to questions propounded by the opposing counsel and he defied Commissioner Jacobs to make him produce records ordered submitted by the commissioner. As a result, steps have been taken to report his attitude to the New York court under whose order the present hearings are being held. Mr. Bayne, consequently, is now face to face with charges of contempt of court.

Samuel G. Bayne is the president of the Seaboard National Bank, a powerful Standard Oil institution which has its home on Broadway in the building adjacent to the famous Number Twenty-Six of the Standard companies. He became president of the now defunct Security Oil Company at its organization. Mr. Bayne, however, according to his flat announcement, did not have the slightest curiosity concerning the affairs of the concern of which he was the nominal head. His attitude was precisely that of the ancient Vanderbilt who coined the memorable phrase, "The public be damned!" Undoubtedly his hostile attitude made him a much more prominent figure in the week's hearings than the bulk of his testimony warranted. For Mr. Bayne evidently was suffering from an attack of aphasia as severe as that with which Mr. Rockefeller was afflicted when he occupied the stand in the early part of the summer. He simply could not remember the details of the formation of the Security. Then again he would give variety to his testimony by declaring that he would absolutely refuse to answer.

He Answered the Salary.
He certainly was not reticent on one occasion. That was when he stated that he had taken the office of president of the Security solely for the salary; that he never was within a thousand miles of a directors' meeting; and that he did not have the slightest sense of responsibility as president either to the stockholders or bondholders. It was Mr. Bayne's refusal to produce the records of the Seaboard Bank which might show the transfer of $2,500,000 from the London Commercial Investment and Trading Company, Limited, of Standard Oil affiliation through that bank to the Security Company that resulted in his being severely reprimanded by Commissioner Jacobs and the decision to begin contempt proceedings.

Although financial New York is accustomed to think in very large figures, it was evident from the tone of the financial journals, as well as that of the metropolitan press in general, that Big Business was startled at the naïve account which Mr. Bayne gave of his trip to England with a package containing $2,500,000 of the Security's bonds. The witness said that he did not see the bonds, took it for granted they were in the package, left it at the London company's office, took a receipt and left without even seeing a member of the firm.

Most of the information obtained during the week's hearings concerning the relation of the Magnolia Petroleum Company of Texas to the Standard interests was obtained from Richard C. Velt, the secretary of the Standard Oil Company of New York. Mr. Velt apparently became rather "rattled" during his few hours on the witness stand. He used the term "independent" to describe certain oil companies, apparently oblivious of the fact that the supreme court decree was designed to make all companies independent.

Folger Interested in Magnolia.
The week's hearings brought out the admission that H. C. Folger, president of the Standard Oil of New York, is also one of the heaviest stockholders in the Magnolia Petroleum Company. In view of this Wall street appeared to be especially interested in the testimony of Mr. Velt which disclosed a contract between the Magnolia and the New York Standard by which the latter took care of the lighterage of the Magnolia's immense shipping. Mr. Velt stated that a contract had been made in April of this year, several months after the time limit set by the supreme court for the re-organization of the Standard trust. This admission was thrown into bolder relief by his inability to remember a single company outside the Standard group for which the Standard of New York had done any lighterage business.

It was evident from the line of questioning throughout the hearings that the Standard's opponents expect to prove that the system under which each old subsidiary had its exclusive territory has not been changed by the dissolution order. Mr. Untermyer, in examining Mr. Velt on one occasion, challenged him to mention a place in the United States outside of New York and New England in which the Standard of New York marketed its products. Mr. Velt mentioned Bulgaria, but as that was discovered to be outside the three-mile limit, the witness gave up the task.

S. W. Fordyce, Jr., who was active in the Waters-Pierce Oil Company's fight to prevent the Standard Oil interests from dominating the company, and who is president and general counsel of the Pierce-Fordyce Oil Association, now fighting the Standard interests in Texas, declined to admit that he had any knowledge of the plans of the Department of Justice in the Texas case. He said, however:

"I believe that the attorney general is keeping close watch on the oil situation, not only in the southwest, but throughout the country. I feel confident that every one, whether he be an employee, stockholder, or officer of the affiliated Standard Oil Companies, who lends himself or his property to any scheme to evade the letter or spirit of the supreme court's decree, will be summarily brought to justice. There is also no doubt in my mind that Rockefeller, Archbold, and their associates are still controlling nearly all of the subsidiary companies through proxies given to their agents as effectively and for the same purposes as they did through the New Jersey company before the government's dissolution suit. They are doing indirectly precisely what the supreme court enjoined them from doing directly."

Mr. Fordyce explained that the indictments returned by the federal grand jury of the northern district of Texas against John D. Archbold and others of the Standard Oil group were for alleged conspiracies entered into early in 1911 after H. C. Folger, then secretary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and now president of the Standard Oil Company of New York, had failed to buy the Pierce-Fordyce Association.

Mr. Folger personally said Mr. Fordyce, "made the offer to purchase which I declined. Immediately afterward an unrelenting campaign was started against the Pierce-Fordyce Association. In this practically all of the old Standard Oil methods revealed in the government's dissolution suit were resorted to. Employees were enticed away, and at the same time prices were sharply reduced in Texas, while they were advanced everywhere in the United States where the Standard maintains the same practical monopoly as before the decision."

Hints to Housewives.
When bluing, add a little washing soda to the blue water. This will prevent the clothes having a streaky appearance.

To remove mud from clothes, scrape with the edge of a penny. This will not destroy the nap of the cloth and will quickly remove the mud. (Editor's Note: A $20-gold piece will do just as well.)

When roasting a fowl in a gas stove put three tablespoons of water into the meat tin at the bottom of the stove. You will find the steam will make the bird tender, and obviate the necessity for continually basting it.

To polish side combs, dry some flour thoroughly in the oven and then let it get cold. Rub well on the combs with pieces of wadding or rag. As the flour gets dirty, use fresh and be sure that the wadding is clean.

When using marking ink for linen, first make your initials on the linen with an ordinary lead pencil and then trace with your ink over the pencil marks. The pencil will prevent the ink from spreading and giving the linen a blotched appearance.

A simple and excellent way to remove dirty marks from a raincoat is to cut a raw potato in slices and rub it well on the marks. It will also remove mud stains from dress skirts.

Vinegar will keep the hands white and smooth and prevent chapping when exposed to the cold air after washing in hot and soapy water. Before drying the hands, rub over them a teaspoonful of vinegar and the result will be satisfactory.

Norway has a sick insurance law which embraces all wage earners and public servants over 15 years of age whose yearly earnings do not exceed $122 in the rural districts or $175 in the cities. The law also provides that the employer shall pay a certain percentage (one-sixth) of the premium, while he is held responsible for the whole, but may deduct from the wages of the insured at the end of the term for which the premium is paid the amount thus advanced. Theoretically it is self-insurance on the contributive plan, while actually, it amounts to an extra tax upon the employer, as most employees stipulate when engaging their services that the insurance premium shall be paid in addition to the wages.—Chicago Tribune.

MARY STREET STORM SEWER

Contract as Presented by the Cotton Belt and the Draft Proposed by Commissioner P. A. Gorman

The city of Waco and the Cotton Belt railroad are not exactly agreed on the wording of the contract under which the Mary street storm sewer is to be constructed, and the matter has been referred to City Attorney Lud T. Williams, with instructions to have the views of the city incorporated in the written agreement, instead of that prepared by the company.

Several days ago the contract, as prepared by the general attorney for the Cotton Belt, was presented to the city commission. Its provisions did not exactly suit Commissioner Gorman, by whose department the work is to be done, and the mayor and the other commissioners agreed with him. One feature especially unsatisfactory was the proposition of the railroad that the company would not be required to pay its part of the expense of the sewer until all the work had been completed and accepted.

Another objectionable feature was the agreement of the railroad company to pay the expense of keeping its tracks out of the way of the sewer contractor, and there the agreement stops. The city wants to add that the railroad company is to pay every character of expense that is necessary because these tracks are on the street.

When the railroad contract was presented, Mr. Gorman submitted a draft of a contract that covered the points wherein his ideas differed from those of the railroad company. The contract is given below in full, and wherein they differ is given in parallel columns, the railroad draft on one side and Commissioner Gorman's draft on the other, so they can be read together and the public understand the points at issue.

THE CONTRACT IN FULL.

This agreement, made and entered into, this, ..... day of ..... 1912, by and between the St. Louis Southwestern Railway company of Texas (hereinafter called the Railway Company), party of the first part, and the City of Waco, Texas (hereinafter called the City), party of the second part, witnesseth:

Whereas, the said City desires to construct a storm sewer on Mary street, from the west bank of the Brazos river to the west line of Eleventh street, in the city of Waco, which will cross under the tracks of the Railway Company, and the Railway Company consents to the same on the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned:

Now, therefore, in consideration of the premises and the performance of the covenants and agreements hereinafter contained to be performed by the parties hereto, and in consideration of the sum of One Dollar by each party to the other in hand paid, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto have agreed and do hereby agree as follows, to-wit:

The said City shall, at its own cost and expense, lay and construct the said storm sewer of such dimensions as will in the judgment of its proper officers, care for the storm water; said sewer to be constructed of such strength as, in the judgment of the proper officer of the Railway Company, may be necessary to carry the railway tracks. The City shall have the said work done by contract, receiving bids for same, which bids shall specify the doing of the work at unit prices; that is to say, ..... excavating and backfilling, ..... so much per cubic yard, including the loading of excess material excavated on cars of the Railway Company; taking up and replacing paving ..... so much per square yard; furnishing pipe of sufficient strength for an ordinary sewer, according to City specifications ..... per lineal foot for each size of pipe; laying pipe ..... per lineal foot for each size; furnishing pipe of greater strength, sufficient to carry a railroad track, ..... per lineal foot for each size of pipe; price for sewer inlets; building manholes ..... so much per manhole.

The Cotton Belt Draft.

It is agreed and understood that the City is to make the best contract obtainable for the interests of both parties hereto, covering the construction of said storm sewer; the Railway Company, through its proper officer, shall be a party to the opening of the bids and the letting of said work; and the Railway Company will reimburse the City for one-half the cost of constructing an ordinary sewer, or such sewer as would be sufficient to carry the storm water if the railway tracks were not there, and shall also pay the extra expense incurred by reason of requiring a heavier sewer to carry the railway tracks. The Railway Company will, at its own cost and expense, remove all tracks and other obstructions, such as pavement, walks, etc., that may be in the way of the construction of this sewer, on account of the operation of said Railway, on this street, and if it is found necessary by the said Railway Company to maintain any of said tracks for the operation of their trains, during the progress of the work, the Railway Company will be required to pay all the costs of constructing the necessary false work and other necessary expenses incurred on account of maintaining said tracks during the construction of the sewer.

It is further understood and agreed that the City of Waco will only be required to pay one-half the cost of constructing an ordinary storm sewer on a street free from all of the obstructions that are now on this street on account of the operation of he said Railway.

It is further agreed that said Railway Company is to pay its proportion of said cost, as outlined above, when the City makes its payments on the City Engineer's estimates.

The said City shall have all of the said work done in such manner and at such times as not to duly interfere with the use of the property of the Railway Company by the Railway Company, or any other company or person using or operating said property with the consent of the Railway Company.

The said City shall provide for the loading of the excess excavated material onto cars of the Railway Company; and the Railway Company will haul the same away and unload such material from its cars promptly.

The said Railway Company agrees to and will reimburse the City for one-half the cost of the laterals at each street to carry the drainage from the cross streets on the north side of Mary street, and all the cost of caring for the drainage on the south side of Mary street.

The City shall require the contractors doing the work herein agreed to be done, to protect and indemnify the Railway Company from and against any and all damages to property, injuries to or deaths of persons, caused by or resulting from any act or neglect of the said contractors, their agents or employees, while constructing the said storm sewer, and the City agrees that it will require the contractors to give a proper obligation with good and sufficient sureties satisfactory to the Railway Company, conditioned on the full performance of all the agreements and stipulations in this contract contained.

In witness whereof, the said parties hereto have executed this agreement in duplicate on this, the day and year first above written.

SHERIFF SAVES A NEGRO

ARKANSAS MOB FAILS TO BRING OFF LYNCHING.

Game Peace Officer Gives Advice to Crowd to Disperse and It Is Heeded.

Washington, Ark., Sept. 22.—When a crowd of men and boys from Fulton, a nearby town, appeared at the county jail this morning with the avowed intention of lynching a negro accused of attempted assault on a white woman of Fulton, Sheriff E. D. Veltin calmly advised them to hasten from Washington as rapidly as possible and his advice was followed.

The sheriff being warned of the coming of the mob, had hidden the negro in a church. Thinking the danger passed, he returned to the jail with the prisoner, only to find it in the possession of a crowd which was trying to force the jailers' 17-year-old son to deliver the keys. The sheriff promptly took charge of the situation. After disarming those who displayed weapons he locked up the negro and returned the confiscated guns and impressed upon the whole party the advisability of getting out of town in a hurry.

The negro, Golden Maxwell, is accused of having attempted to assault Mrs. T. E. Parker, a widow, on September 7. She says when she screamed the black attempted to choke her. She grappled with him and held him until help arrived.

RUSSIA WANTS WAR.

Turkey May Have Trouble as Result of Bulgarian Massacres.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 22.—An investigation of conditions in Bulgaria discloses an unanimity of sentiment that Russia has long cherished war against Turkey. Unless the conferences which the Russian foreign minister, M. Sazonov, will have in London with British statesmen are fruitful for Macedonia, the war party is likely to gain the upper hand. The army is already taking active measures. Railroad tracks are guarded throughout the whole extent, detachments are stationed at the bridges, and requisition commissions are canvassing the frontier towns. Preparations also have been made to acquire ample provisions.

Massacres at Rhodina will be carried out by 50,000 troops, but it has been decided to dispatch no further troops to that district. It is doubtful if the reserves will be diminished. The serious situation is reflected in business and foreign branch banks have suspended credit.

The pacific policy of King Ferdinand is now challenged by a systematic propaganda for war. The massacre of 152 Bulgarians by Turks in August at Motichana has stirred the nation deeply. Meetings have been held in all parts of Bulgaria, at which Turkey has been fiercely denounced. The insurrection of the wild Albanian tribes has opened the eyes of Greece and Serbia, and for the first time Bulgaria faces the Turkish problem in accord with these two countries.

China Notifies Powers.

London, Sept. 22.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times says the Chinese government notified the six-power group of Bankers that unless they advanced 1,500,000 taels ($1,600,000) to meet the payments due Sept. 25, the government would be compelled to avail itself of the London loan. The group declined, whereupon the government drew on the London installment.

JOE BOB CAVE QUILTS COURT

ISSUES ADDRESS TO THE BAR OF TEXAS GIVING REASONS FOR HIS ACTION.

DISPLEASING TO A JUDGE

Says Prendergast Asked That He Resign—If He Did Not, Clerk Smith Would Go.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 22.—Joe Bob Cave, deputy clerk of the court of criminal appeals and secretary of the State Bar association, issues the following address to the bar of Texas, with regard to his recent resignation as deputy clerk and the appointment of T. L. Coplin in his stead. It airs some of the troubles of the court of criminal appeals and is interesting. It follows:

To the Bar of Texas:—As I am severing my connection with the court of criminal appeals (which at this time is composed of Judges Davidson, Harper and Prendergast), it may not be inappropriate for me to express an appreciation of the generous treatment I have received from the lawyers of this state. I have been connected with this court in the capacity of stenographer, clerk at Dallas and deputy clerk at Austin for a period of sixteen years. During these years I have met and have become personally acquainted with a great many lawyers throughout our great state, and especially those practicing in this court. For four consecutive years I have been elected secretary of the Texas Bar association, and now have the honor of filling that office. These positions have brought me in close contact with the personnel of the bar of Texas, and I have always received such courteous and honorable treatment from them that I have been inspired with the highest opinion of the integrity and ability of the Texas bar. During all of these years, in a thousand transactions, involving many important motions, briefs, transcripts and other papers I have never known any lawyer to be guilty of any dishonorable act.

Is Grateful to the Bar.

Retiring from the position held by me in this court I feel peculiarly grateful to the bar for the uniform courtesy with which it has treated me during my official career. I shall always recall my connection with this court not only with a degree of pride but with a sense of patriotism and a feeling of great pleasure. During the time I have been connected with this court I served under the illustrious Judge Hurt, whose decisions are quoted as authority wherever the English law prevails. I served under Judge Henderson, one of the rarest and best men that Texas has produced, a brave soldier, a splendid citizen and a learned judge. I served under Judge Brooks, one of God's noblemen, true to his friends and an incorruptible, high-minded and fearless judge. I served under Judge Ramsey, an energetic, painstaking and brilliant judge. I also served under Judge McCord, a big-hearted conscientious judge. And of course during all of these years I have served under Judge W. L. Davidson, who, when some historian writes the history of the Texas court of criminal appeals, will take his position along with such judges as Hurt as Sherwood of Missouri, as Cooley of Michigan, as Lumpkin of Georgia, and as Bronson of New York, the greatest appellate judges this country has produced. From all of these judges I have received encouragement and commendation. And in my service with this court I have been associated with the assistant attorney generals, Robert A. John, D. E. Simmons, Howard Martin, J. E. Yantis, John A. Mobley and C. E. Lane, who have been with this court by appointment of the governors of our state and have not only received their thanks and praise for the efficiency of my work, but they have uniformly invited me to discuss and consult with them on questions arising before them. And it is with pride that I point to their friendship and commendation.

In view of the fact that I have at all times appreciated and still appreciate the confidence and friendship of the bar of Texas and as my retirement from this court is not voluntary, a sense of what is due to myself impels me to disclose the reasons, in order that my friends may understand the cause of my retirement.

Judge Prendergast's Objections.

Upon my return to Austin from my vacation on September 9, I was informed by E. P. Smith, clerk of this court, under whom I held the position of deputy clerk, that Judge Prendergast had notified Mr. Smith I was persona non grata to him, and that Judge Harper, on this account merely, had concurred in asking for my resignation. Immediately I went to Judge Harper and asked him what was the objection, and he told me that Judge Prendergast had informed him that he must make a place for his friend, who wanted to be clerk of the court; that Judge Harper informed him he would not consider anyone for the position of clerk of the court, held by Mr. Smith, and perhaps his friend might accept the deputyship; that Judge Prendergast demurred. Then Judge Harper went to see his friend, returned and informed Judge Prendergast his friend at first refused to accept the deputyship but finally agreed to take it, and that Judge Prendergast informed Judge Harper that Cave was objectionable to him. Judge Harper at this time informed me that my services and work in every way had been entirely satisfactory to him, and that the complaint of Judge Prendergast within the last few days was the first objection he had heard made against me.

Calls on Judge Prendergast.

On September 10th, Judge Prendergast being in his office (having returned to Austin late on the evening of the 9th) I went in and inquired what objections he had made to me, and he informed me that they had discussed making a change. I then asked him if there was any question as to my qualifications and ability in discharging the duties of my position, and he replied that everything was satisfactory. I then informed him that there could be no question of the fact that I supported and voted for him in the recent primary in his candidacy for judge of the court of criminal appeals and he replied none. And he then said that at the time he had felt some personal resentment by reason of my having called Judge Davidson's attention to three opinions written by himself and delivered as the opinions of the court. I told Judge Prendergast that I had always endeavored to assist the court and each member of the court by calling attention to any loose expressions in the opinions or sentences that might not express clearly the intention of the court etc. and that I had called such matters to his own attention to the attention of Judge Harper and to the attention of Judge Davidson, and had also done so in my relation with the former judges under whom I had served, and had uniformly been thanked by each and every one for the interest I had manifested in the work of the court, and that this was the first time I had ever received any intimation from any member of the court that any courtesy was not appreciated. That it was my purpose to call these matters to the attention of the court and when I had placed it before any member of the court it was for the court to decide whether any change in the opinion should be made.

Cave to Go, or Smith.

Judge Prendergast then said that at this time his resentment had passed away and that it continued no longer. The conversation then turned to other matters. On the morning of September 11, C. E. Lane, the assistant attorney general, came to me and told me that Judge Harper stated that unless Mr. Smith took definite action and demanded and required my resignation, Mr. Smith would not likely be reappointed by the court as clerk upon the expiration of his four year term the first of next January, and I immediately informed Mr. Smith and Mr. Lane that, although under my appointment I could serve three more months, my resignation was in, if that would insure the reappointment of Mr. Smith, who had been my personal friend for many years. I then went to Judge Prendergast and asked him when he and Judge Harper wanted my resignation to take effect, and Judge Prendergast informed me that they had not discussed the matter of time, but it made for the first of October it would give Mr. Coplin the benefit of the experience, and then I went to Judge Harper and asked him when they wanted the resignation to take effect, and he told me that they had agreed on October first, and he felt I was entitled to the vacation months as I had completed the year's work. I asked them if they wanted my resignation earlier and they replied that was satisfactory. The resignation was made to Mr. Smith and Mr. Coplin was immediately appointed to the position of deputy clerk. All these transactions occurred in the absence of Presiding Judge Davidson, and without his knowledge and consent, and while at his home in Georgetown, respectively.

JOE BOB CAVE.

GUARD IS INCREASED.

Attempt Is to Be Made to Break Strike in Utah.

Singham, Utah, Sept. 22.—Quiet prevailed here today. The 4500 miners who walked out Wednesday from the Utah Copper company's property and from the adjoining mines gathered in small groups on the streets but only the guards on patrol indicated the existence of a strike.

Nearly fifty men were added to Sheriff Joseph Sharp's force of deputies today, the total now being 350. Officers of the Utah Copper company remain silent on their plans to break the strike, but preparations indicate that tomorrow or Tuesday will see the first steps for supremacy between the strikers and the company.

The rank and file of the striking miners freely say they will seek to prevent, by force if necessary, any attempt to resume operations unless their demands for more pay and better working conditions are granted.

FILE WILL OF JUDGE TERRELL

ESTATE, REAL AND PERSONAL, ESTIMATED TO BE VALUED AT $45,000.

GIFTS MADE TO FRIENDS

These Include Rare Collection of Curios Gathered in Turkey—Texas University Remembered.

Austin, Sept. 22.—The will of the late A. W. Terrell was filed for probate in the county court of Travis county this morning by the executor, It nominates Joseph Terrell, John L. Terrell and A. W. Terrell, Jr., all of Fort Worth, as executors.

The value of the estate is estimated at $45,000, consisting principally of property situated in Austin and Fort Worth. The bulk of the real estate is left in about equal proportions to his daughter, Mrs. Lilla Rector, and his granddaughter, Mrs. Constance James, both of Austin, and to his other grandchildren, Alex. W. Terrell of Panama and Mary Terrell of Fort Worth. The Morris mansion, just north of the capitol, is left in trust for the benefit of Mrs. Constance James, Mary Terrell and Alex. W. Terrell, Jr., until Mary Terrell attains her majority, at which time it passes in fee simple to these parties.

The residence property in Austin is left in trust for the benefit of Mrs. Lilla Rector, with a reversionary interest to Lilla Dashiell, a great-granddaughter. J. Bouldin Rector, a grandson, is named as trustee for the management of the property left to his daughter. A residence in Fort Worth is left to Mary Terrell, to be rented or sold and the proceeds applied to her education. One thousand dollars in cash is left to Howard D. Terrell, a son, in New Mexico. His library and reminiscences are left to J. Bouldin Rector, a grandson.

Friends are Remembered.

A codicil is attached to the will disposing of a great many of his personal effects and distributing them among relatives and friends. Among the personal effects thus disposed of is a splendid collection of Turkish rugs collected by Judge Terrell during his stay abroad. Texas University is given three genuine Trojan vases presented to Judge Terrell by Frank Calvert, the consular agent who lived at the Dardanelles and who owned the site of ancient Troy and co-operated with Schliemann, the noted antiquarian, in making the excavations of Troy.

Mr. Schliemann stated that these vases came from King Priam's treasure house. When exhumed they were covered with carbonate of lime. Later cleaned of this deposit by Judge Terrell. Herodotus writes that Troy was destroyed 500 years before the coming of Christ. In the will Judge Terrell states that he spent two days at the site of these excavations and it is his belief that the destruction of Troy was contemporaneous with the Aegan civilization. The vases were discovered twenty feet below the surface and are the only genuine Trojan vases in America. They are presented to the University of Texas on condition that they shall be deposited in a separate locked receptacle prepared for them, as was done in the case of the old Greek tenth century manuscripts of the four gospels previously presented to the university by Judge Terrell.

The oil portraits of General Sam Houston and Colonel Frank Johnson also are presented to the State University.

HEALTH EXPERTS GATHER

CONGRESS ON HYGIENE MEETS IN WASHINGTON.

Three Thousand Delegates to Attend. President Taft to Make Address of Welcome.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Washington during all of this week will be the health mecca of the world. Here have gathered from all quarters of the globe thousands of experts on health and vital statistics to attend the fifteenth International Congress on Hygiene and Demography, whose sessions begin tomorrow morning and continue through the week. There are about 3000 delegates.

President Taft will welcome the congress to the United States tomorrow morning. Dr. Max Rubner of the Emperor Frederick William university, Berlin, president of the permanent international committee of the congress, will deliver an address on the progress among the nations and the possibilities of the future of public hygiene and vital statistical work. The roll call of the thirty-three foreign governments represented will be answered by the heads of the delegations from these countries. Delegates from about 300 cities in this country, from every state and territory except Alaska, from the leading universities of this country and Europe, and from numerous social betterment, medical and scientific societies are here.

In the sixty years of its existence, this is the first time the congress has met in the United States. In addition, meetings to be held in various sections, a vast exhibit has been prepared in a building erected for the purpose, containing devices of value in the promotion of health ideas.

"Prevention" is the keynote of the sanitary arrangements set forth there. What the nation, through the United States public health service and its other bureaus, is doing, and what the states and cities and private charities are doing to conserve the human strength of the country is shown by models.

The United States navy is represented by an operating room of a battleship and by a ship kitchen, where latest devices for preparing large quantities of food with speed and cleanliness are shown. The army has erected a number of ovens show how it provides food for its men, and a complete hospital corps is encamped right outside the doors of the exhibition building, ready either for play or actual service.

How the tenement dwellers of large cities are taught better housing and living conditions, what large manufacturing concerns are doing for the well-being of their employees, what colleges are doing for physical development, how the lives of babies are being looked after, what children's playgrounds are accomplishing, what the United States bureau of animal industry is striving for in its meat inspection, model dairy and other work, all these and similar human conservation enterprises, are shown by a working model.

Gov. Johnson in New York.

New York, Sept. 22.—After four weeks' campaigning in the west, Gov. Johnson of California, the progressive vice presidential candidate, arrived here today to take a short rest before making an address at Worcester, Mass., on Tuesday. The governor was greeted at Cleveland last night to find that his favorite set of dominoes had disappeared. He is a great lover of the game.

Blows Up Home of Sweetheart.

Cleveland, Sept. 22.—Rejected in love, the would-be husband of Margaret Modna, it is believed by the police, today exploded a dynamite bomb beneath the sidewalk at her home, partly demolishing it and an adjoining house. Fourteen people asleep in the two houses escaped with but slight injuries. The police were unable to locate, so far, the anonymous suspect.

New Orleans, Sept. 22.—J. P. Morris, a printer, who was knocked down during a quarrel last week by Richard Wallace, a fellow printer, died in the hospital here today from concussion of the brain resulting from the blow. Wallace, who is believed to have left the city, is being sought by the police.

Morris came here from Denver some months ago. He is said to be a Texan and has relatives in Birmingham.

Kansas City Ball Park Burns.

Kansas City, Sept. 22.—Association Park, the home of Kansas City's American Association baseball club, was destroyed tonight by fire, which also burned a plant of the city ice and cold storage company and two residences near the park. The total loss was $100,000. The fire started only a few hours after Kansas City and St. Paul had played a double header at the park, their closing games of the season.

A PIRATICAL AGREEMENT.

"Good crops is the report generally from the agricultural states, but there is no excessive harvest yield to put down prices. Farmers are meeting buyers as they all need money, but there is no prospect of overstocked markets and low prices.

The railroads complain of a shortage in cars to move the crops, but they will be able to meet general demands. The farm products which are chiefly articles of food or material for clothing, are necessities of life, and if the farmers know how to protect their interests by the use of some system that would enable them to hold their products, not for high prices, but for fair and reasonable returns, and so feed them to the markets as they are needed, it would bring about a state of affairs that is not only needed for the general good, but would go far to promote widespread prosperity."

The above is the conclusion of the New Orleans Picayune with reference to current conditions. It indicates that while the farmers have been reasonably successful they have by no means made a bumper record. Yet on the same day that our New Orleans contemporary printed this, a dispatch from its city recited that the steamship agents were quoting rates for ocean transportation that were higher than ever. In some instances, the agents were even refusing to make quotations on general cargoes and withdrawing all quoted rates and options besides.

As a matter of fact, notice has been served on freight brokers and foreign freight agents by the London and Liverpool steamship combination that general cargo rates for London, Liverpool and Antwerp have been cancelled. On September 20 the rate to Bordeaux tipped the high record level of 70 cents per 100 pounds, as against 45 cents on August 7. On the same day the rate to Bremen had advanced from 40 to 65 cents, and exceptionally high rates were being quoted on cotton to other ports, none of them being lower than 55 or 60 cents. A rate of 43 cents on lumber was being quoted by the Liverpool liners, the highest in years. This rate is prohibitive, for lumber generally moves on a rate from 17 to 20 cents between the United States and United Kingdom ports.

In defense of these rates it is asserted that the urgent demand for tonnage to move the big crops has caused them and that despite the advance all ships are booked for several months ahead. The manager of the Leyland line which maintains a regular service between New Orleans and Galveston and Liverpool and Antwerp is quoted as saying that there is no prospect for a decline. The tramp boats regulate the rates, he explains, and as there are no tramps to be secured at any of the Gulf ports, high rates are to be expected. Galveston is being forced to pay higher rates than New Orleans, says this genial pirate, "yet it is doing a tremendous business in exports and there is no great complaint." We do not know just how loud a complaint must be to deserve the designation of "great" from a Leyland line official, but we are certain that it is sufficiently emphatic in this instance to merit notice.

As to the claim that the absence of tramps is responsible for the present abuse, it might be worth respectful consideration if it were not a fact that no tramp has sailed from New Orleans for Liverpool with cotton in over twelve years, the Liverpool-London combine, of which the Leyland line is a most important element, having long ago succeeded in driving the tramp ships out of that trade.

The truth of the matter is that the abnormal increase in ocean rates is the direct result of a carefully planned and skillfully worked out agreement among several big associations of for-sign ship owners, to obtain control of the ocean carrier business of the Gulf ports—an agreement to which owners whose ships make the Atlantic ports are a party. In other words, a division of territory has been arranged for and enough tramps chartered and sent to other ports of the world to be kept busy at this time so that there may be no effective interference with the scheme to hold up the shippers of grain, cotton and lumber to the Queen's taste, while the movement of those products is heavy.

Most any old sort of a politician seems to look better to Gov. Wilson than the Tammany brand.

Col. Roosevelt declines to admit that Gov. Wilson even knows his history, notwithstanding his years of teaching.

Anyway, that reunion of the Allen family in a Virginia jail wasn't an enjoyable occasion for the participants.

"The greater the consumption, the higher the prices," seems to have been adopted as the business motto of the producers of gasoline.

Of course, some London editors will see "more Yankee trickery" in the defeat of the Canadian rifle team by Americans.

If Diaz were a few years younger he might be able to show Mexico something spectacular in the "come back" line.

Of course, these Philadelphia women who are being tried out as street car conductors are known to be flirt-proof.

But Taft should keep in mind that the average voter would not know a "budget system" if he met it in the middle of the road.

A new sort of dividend—that of 4-1-2 per cent to be paid to the taxpayers of Fargo, N. D., out of the municipal savings of last year.

A man need not claim to be a Solomon just because he's found out that his friends are far more costly to him than his enemies are.

Sure, Algernon, there are more gone-broke-quicks by a thousand to one than there are got-rich-quicks. Anybody ought to know that.

Perhaps there'll be more activity among the lady politicians after they've decided on and bought their fall style hats and gowns.

Gov. Tener, of Pennsylvania, now occupies the unique position of being opposed to Penrose on state issues and supporting Taft for president.

Our army officers are doubtless glad they are not expected to follow the example of the late Gen. Nogi in order to demonstrate their patriotism.

Yes, sir-ree, this French politician who hails Emperor William as the world's peace leader is away up near the head of the diplomatic class.

Looks like Gov. Marshall was trying to earn the title of "Terrible Tommy" on the stump. Where his side-partner throws flowers, he throws bricks.

This European military expert who says the Panama Canal could be taken from us forcibly at any time should take something for that over-foolish feeling.

Maybe this Mr. Smith, of Menasha, Wis., who dropped $5,000 in the domestic war chest the other day, is another member of the family who has his eye on a tosa.

At any rate, this is one presidential campaign in which business has not been frightened into coming across with an enormous bank roll—at least, not so far.

Rather broad assertion that Chicago preacher made, when he said that no woman modestly attired and carrying herself modestly was ever annoyed by a street "masher."

Officers of our marines in Nicaragua probably fought for the detail to command the party sent to rescue a number of girls said to be imprisoned in a French college down there.

Oh, well, if it were anybody but a French editor who announced that the Panama Canal would be anything but a costly fizzle, Uncle Sam might be offended. As it is, he "jes lafs."

Already poor crops in Europe are being played up conspicuously, probably to wet-blanket the hopes of our consumers that bumper crops in this country will reduce the cost of living.

BOOSTERS TOUR IN AUTOS

HILLSBORO CLUB WILL VISIT EVERY TOWN IN COUNTY.

To Carry a Band and Give Souvenirs. Want to Create Good Feeling.

Hillsboro, Tex., Sept. 22.—Under the auspices of the Young Men's Booster club, the representative business concerns of Hillsboro will visit practically every town in Hill county, as well as West and Milford, using automobiles as a means of conveyance. The Booster club, while bending its energies to the upbuilding of Hillsboro, as the county seat, recognizes that from the country as a whole must come the greater part of the city's prosperity, and is therefore ever ready and willing to promote and boost any proposition that will benefit the county as a whole.

It is due wholly to the efforts of the Booster club that Hillsboro now has a creamery and refrigerating plant second to none in the state in point of both capacity and efficiency. It is now up to the club to promote in every way possible the development of the dairy industry throughout the county. This is being done and will continue to be done until Hill county shall be recognized not only for her immense cotton and other crops, but for her dairy products. When this is accomplished there will be no more prosperous county in the United States than Hill county, Texas.

It is with this desire to be of benefit to the entire county that this auto tour was inaugurated. The first trip will be taken on Tuesday, Sept. 24; the second on Friday, Sept. 27, and the third and last for this year on Friday, Oct. 4. On each of these trips the Hillsboro band will render good music at each place visited, while the business representatives will present souvenirs of the occasion. The club hopes, by these visits, to bring about a more cordial feeling than ever between the citizens of the county and those of the balance of the county.

TALK POVERTY PROBLEM

CATHOLIC CHARITIES CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON.

Measures Designed to Rescue the Poor from Ignorance and Disease to Be Considered.

Washington, Sept. 22.—To consider problems of poverty and measures designed to rescue the poor from ignorance and disease, the National Conference of Catholic Charities began its second biennial meeting here today with several hundred delegates in attendance. The convention opened with the celebration of mass at Catholic University of America, where the Right Rev. J. F. Regis Cavenin, bishop of Pittsburgh, sounded the keynote of the gathering in a sermon on charity and correctional work.

At a public meeting at the university tonight Commissioner Johnston welcomed the delegates to Washington and the broad phases of charity were discussed by several leaders. Monsignor Thomas J. Shahan, rector of the Catholic University, delivered an address on the "Church in Charity."

ROOSEVELT TAKES REST.

Bull Moose Spends Sunday Quietly in Emporia, Kan.

Emporia, Kan., Sept. 22.—William Allen White took charge of Colonel Roosevelt today and gave him the most peaceful Sunday he has had since the campaign opened. Mr. White, who is progressive national committee man for Kansas, was Colonel Roosevelt's host.

Mr. White had issued an appeal to the people of Emporia in the interests of Col. Roosevelt to "give the man the one thing in the world he needs most—a complete rest."

"Let Emporia show him that if he wants to sit on the front porch and read the papers he can do it and attract no more attention than any other man doing the same thing."

Some of the people had planned differently. They had arranged to give Col. Roosevelt a Kansas welcome, beginning with a band concert at 2 a. m. when he arrived here from Topeka. These plans were cancelled when the colonel's wishes became known. His sleep was not interrupted by the band when the train drew in and when the congregation gathered at the Dutch Reformed church this morning no one knew the colonel would be there until he entered the building.

The only departure from the rules laid down came when Colonel Roosevelt left town. A crowd gathered at the station to see him off and cheer him.

Colonel Roosevelt goes campaigning in Missouri tomorrow.

Congress thoughtfully bestows a year's salary, amounting to $7,500, upon the heirs of each member of the senate or house of representatives who dies in office, and this custom, having the sanction of custom only, was followed this year in thirteen cases, the cost to the people aggregating nearly $100,000. Three senators and ten representatives died in office during the session which ended last week. These were: Senators Frye, of Maine; Taylor of Tennessee, and Nixon of Nevada; Representatives Kipp, of Pennsylvania; Mitchell, of Kansas; Latta of Nebraska; Loudenslager, of New Jersey; Madison, of Kansas; Gordon, of Tennessee; Foster, of Vermont; Hubbard, of Iowa; Wickliffe, of Louisiana; and Malby, of New York.—Columbia State.

Ten Minute Talks on City Building

CONVENTIONS—THE VALUE OF CONVENTIONS FOR ADVERTISING YOUR CITY.

BY R. H. CLAY.

A volume of many pages could be written upon this subject without exhausting it. The value of conventions of a city are so numerous that to enumerate them all would be a task for a day rather than for a ten-minute talk. Consequently, this article must of necessity be confined to narrow limits. In the first place, comes the direct benefit of having visitors in the city from various parts of the state, country or countries. With most conventions, delegates, the season is a vacation period. Consequently, they are free spenders of money. Hotels, restaurants and some classes of stores are the first beneficiaries. All of the other business interests of the city are secondary beneficiaries, because the money received by the hotels, restaurants and other establishments direct is afterward spent by them for supplies and other goods which they desire to purchase.

Chicago estimates that her conventions are worth in the neighborhood of $10,000,000 annually. Detroit also estimates her conventions to be worth in "new money," about $5,000,000 each year. A little figuring for yourself on the last convention held in your city will show you something of the value of these gatherings in leaving "new money" in the community.

If your city has any considerable number of wholesale and jobbing houses, you will find it of great advantage to secure as many state conventions as possible. The delegates to such meetings are in large measure retail merchants. When they meet in your city, it affords a splendid opportunity to your wholesalers to meet them and the chances are that many orders for goods will be left behind when the convention adjourns.

One of the greatest values of the convention is the opportunity which it affords for advertising the community. This subject proper will be discussed tomorrow under the head of "Special Publicity." There is one phase of the subject which will be taken up, however, in this article. That is the value of advertising through the convention in securing additional residents.

If the proper efforts are made while a convention is meeting to find those among the delegates who are not altogether satisfied with their present places of residence, many times good settlers will be found. Men are constantly retiring from business. Conventions which meet this year have many new faces where old ones were last year. The city which entertains a convention and makes an impression of its beauty, thrift and pleasant environments will soon see the result in the location of wealthy or well-to-do individuals who come in quietly and unobtrusively and take up their place of abode.

This is also true in the matter of locating new enterprises in the city. Concerns are constantly outgrowing their present quarters and are looking for a new location where they will have better facilities and a larger market in a new operate. Representatives of such concerns rarely fail to attend the annual, district or state convention of their particular line of business. Therefore, it is easy to be seen the chance of making a favorable impression upon such delegates every time a convention is held in the city.

If your city is fortunately located in a favored spot considered from the standpoint either of climate, beautiful surrounding country, historical points of interest, or otherwise, the delegates to a convention, if given the proper attention, will be duly impressed with these features and will again visit your community, perhaps not as a delegate, but on a pleasure trip. Furthermore, that delegate will return to his home land in his praise for your city.

Another value of the convention which should not be underestimated is that of the effect of that gathering upon the city itself. The holding of a convention usually brings together the biggest men in the jurisdiction of that particular character, whether it be state, district, national or international in character. These men usually express themselves upon the live topics of the day through interviews in the newspapers. Usually the convention business concerns the most up-to-date methods of doing business. Such conditions prevailing for a period of several days in any city cannot help but accomplish some results in keeping that community alive and up-to-the-minute.

Milton Carmichael, the father of the convention bureau idea, has demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt the value of the convention in the city of Detroit. His efforts placed Detroit at the head of the list of entertainers for the year 1910 with a total of 185 conventions, which brought 185,000 visitors to the city. There were but four weeks during the year in which no conventions were held. Carmichael's ideas are worth copying and application to him for information concerning nearly any phase of the convention question will find him ever ready to render assistance.

It is almost impossible to overestimate the value of conventions to any city, whether considered from the standpoint of the "new money" brought in and left with the business interests, the opportunity afforded for advertising the city, or from any other standpoint. The entertaining of conventions has passed the experimental stage and has become one of the strongest points of city building among the most up-to-date cities in this country.

Tomorrow—Special Publicity.

CITY BUILDERS ARE TO MEET

BOSTON IS TO ENTERTAIN DELEGATES TO CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE CONGRESS.

SESSIONS OPEN TUESDAY

Forty Foreign Countries to Be Represented—Programs Prepared in Sixteen Languages.

Boston, Sept. 22.—Commercial, industrial, judicial and civic subjects of far-reaching interest will be discussed by delegates from all parts of the world who will assemble in Boston this week for the sessions of the Fifth International Congress of Chambers of Commerce. Forty foreign countries, including Russia and several Central and South American republics never before represented, will have a part in the congress. Seven hundred delegates of national and international prominence, and nearly all leaders in the commercial life of their home cities, will attend. Programs for their use have been prepared in sixteen languages, and notes taken on all discussions will be transcribed in many tongues.

The first three days of the congress, which will open Tuesday, and continue through Saturday, will be devoted to business; and the latter part of the week to local sight-seeing, after which a tour to nearly a score of cities will be begun. Charles Nagel, secretary of the department of commerce and labor, will represent the United States on the opening day and will deliver an address of welcome and on Thursday evening, President Taft will be the speaker at the congress banquet.

Fixed Day for Easter. The establishment of a fixed day for Easter, previously discussed by the congress, will be among the matters considered. The congress at Milan in 1906, disclosed a wide range of opinion on the subject. The commercial bearings of the mobility of certain holidays will be recurring to and more definite views on long agitated calendar reform will be heard. Especial interest is indicated in the proposition for a calendar year of precisely equal divisions and sub-divisions with each day of the month always the same day of the week, made possible by establishing New Years as a day outside the regular cycle of dates, and the following day as January 1.

These subjects will be presented in a communication from Louis Canon-Legrande of Monaco, president of the congress. The cost of living and the desirability of an international conference on the subject will be advanced in a report by Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University. Other subjects for consideration include:

The establishment of an international court of arbitral justice for suits between individuals and foreign states; the unification of legislation relative to checks; international postal reforms in view of the next conference of the Universal Postal Union in 1913; commercial statistics and the immediate institution of an international office; the desirability of an international conference upon the validity of through order notify bills of lading, and of legislation and other means for making the system more effective; the desirability of international uniformity of action in the matter of consular invoices.

Official recognition was extended to the Boston congress by a resolution of congress. Under this resolution, the United States sent invitations to the governments of the world, in addition to the business organizations. Appropriations, totaling $150,000 have been made by the state of Massachusetts, the city of Boston and individuals, for the entertainment of the visitors.

Trip for Foreign Delegates.

Starting on September 20, the foreign delegates will visit Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Washington and New York. The first session of the congress was held at Liege, Belgium, in 1905. In 1906 the meeting was at Milan, Italy; in 1908 at Prague, Austria, and in 1910 at London.

The membership includes commercial and industrial organizations of all nations. Delegates to the biennial conventions are of two classes: the official delegates designated by the respective nations; and those appointed by business organizations affiliated with the congress.

The Boston Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the present international congress is held, is said to be the largest commercial organization in America. It has nearly 5,000 members.

The foreign representation by countries is as follows: Argentina Republic, 3; Austria-Hungary, 12; Brazil, 7; British Empire, England, 61; Aden, Arabia, 1; Australia, 2; Bahamas, 2; Canada, 12; India, 5; Ireland, 2; New Zealand, 10; Scotland, 4; South Africa, 2; Tasmania, 2; France, 19; French Colonies (Algiers), 2; Germany, 22; Greece, 2; Guatemala, 2; Holland, 6; Hongkong, 2; Italy, 10; Japan, 5; Mexico, 3; Norway, 17; Panama, 2; Peru, 5; Portugal, 5; Roumania, 1; Russia, 5; Sweden, 6; Switzerland, 2; Chile, 3; China, 3; Colombia, 2; Cuba, 1; Ecuador, 3; Turkey, Europe, 3; Asia, 5; Africa, 1.

EXPRESS ROBBER AT LARGE.

Detectives Believe He Has Gone to Puerto Cortes.

Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 22.—Detectives employed to investigate the disappearance of $55,000 from an express package while being sent from Pensacola to Flomaton, Ala., have gone to New Orleans to investigate a report that the robber probably sailed on a steamer for Puerto Cortes, leaving New Orleans last Thursday.

It is the belief of officials that the prisoner has escaped from this city, and a majority of the private detectives and special agents who have been working on the case have departed for other points.

No information has been vouchsafed as to the result of the investigation of employees of the First National bank, which shipped the money, or the express messengers who handled the package of money.

One of the most rapidly growing fields for woman's activity is that of chemistry and chemical research. The eighth International Congress of Applied Chemistry is now in session in New York, and of the 4,000 registered attendants, more than 500 are women. In the past few years the number of young women who have taken up practical chemistry as a life work has been the subject of frequent observation.—Boston Transcript.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Washington won both games of a double-header in the farwell series with Chicago today, 4 to 3 and 4 to 1, respectively. Scott's wildness, coupled with opportune hitting, gave the visitors the first, while the second was won by bunching hits. Ellis Johnson, a White Sox recruit pitcher, relieved Scott and pitched fine ball for the remainder of the first game. The batting of Mattick, Zeider, Milan and Shanks was a feature. Walter Johnson was hit hard in the first game but was given perfect support in the pinches. Score: First game—R. H. E. Chicago.....002 061 000—3 12 1 Washington.....129 090 011—4 9 1 Scott, E. ### To Sink a New Well.

West, Sept. 22.—Manager Ingraham states that the water company has decided to drill an additional well as an auxiliary to the one that has for so many years supplied the town with water. Mr. Ingraham says his company has not yet determined exactly where the new well will be drilled, perhaps in the opposite side of town from the present one. It will be connected to the pumping station by a large main, and thus unite with the old well in giving the town an abundant supply of water. The drilling will begin some time within the next ninety days.

Finn's Remarkable Exhibition.

New York, Sept. 22.—Hannes Kohlenmainer of Finland, winner of the Olympic distance races at 5000 and 10,000 meters, gave a remarkable exhibition in winning a five-mile handicap from scratch at Celtic park today in 25:09 2-5, one-fifth of a second behind Geo. Bon Hag's American record made two years ago. Had the little Finnish champion been pushed in today's race by any of the runners there is no telling what new record would have been hung up. Theo. J. Collins of the Irish-American Athletic club, who had 235 yards handicap, finished second, seventy yards behind the champion.

BIRDMAN THRILLS CROWD

LINCOLN BEACHY, DISGUISED AS WOMAN, DIVES IN BIPLANE.

Flies as Low as Ten Feet Over Heads of Spectators at Chicago Aviation Meet.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Great crowds of people near Grant Park on the lake front were startled this afternoon to observe what appeared to be a woman diving in a biplane almost straight down from an altitude of 3000 feet and then with her arms off the levers and her skirts fluttering about her face, flying as low as ten feet over the heads of the spectators. To make the scene the more startling "the woman" flew out of the course and skimmed up and down Michigan avenue, sending automobiles in all directions to seek safety.

The "woman" was Lincoln Beachy, who had disguised himself for the purpose of creating a new aerial sensation at Chicago on the last day of the second annual aviation meet. Beckwith Havens, while driving a hydro-aeroplane with Stanley Twist as a passenger, had a puncture in his bottom. Both men were picked up as they were sinking.

MOOSE TO BE ABSENT.

Campaign Dates Prevent T. R. From Attending Investigation.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The change in Colonel Roosevelt's itinerary announced by the New York progressive headquarters last night, preventing his appearance before the senate committee on campaign expenditures on October 1, is expected to cause no serious alteration of the plans for opening the hearings here.

Chairman Clapp was not in Washington today, but it has been understood that efforts would be made to have J. P. Morgan and George W. Perkins testify during the week beginning Sept. 30. Further plans for Colonel Roosevelt's appearance will not be made until information is received from the New York headquarters as to when it will be convenient for him to appear.

The full subcommittee will meet here next Friday to arrange for the hearings that begin Monday. If Chairman Clapp's tentative plans are approved Mr. Morgan and Mr. Perkins probably will be asked to appear during the first week and tell of any relations they may have had with the raising of campaign funds or the giving of campaign funds to presidential or congressional candidates.

POLICEMAN IN JAIL.

Charged with Murder of Officer at Atlanta, Ga.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 22.—Discovery of a small wound resembling a bullet hole in the back of Patrolman H. A. Belding, who was shot and killed yesterday morning by Patrolman J. W. Camp, resulted in a second inquest today. Camp was held on the charge of murder and placed in jail. According to Camp's story, immediately before the shooting, the two officers who had roomed together for six years, became involved in a dispute and both reached for a revolver on the dresser. Camp got it first and shot, he claimed, in self-defense. The evidence submitted at the inquest showed that there were powder burns on the back of Belding's shirt, indicating the wound in the body was not made by the egress of a bullet fired from the front. Belding's body was taken to his former home at Augusta this afternoon.

Cardinal Gibbons at Kansas City. Kansas City, Sept. 22.—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore preached in the Kansas City cathedral this morning to a congregation that filled the building. "When it comes to the relief of human suffering," said the cardinal, "we should not be stopped by differences of color, of race, of nationality or of religion. He urged the co-operation of capital and labor, saying "Let brain and brawn, mind and physical forces, capital and labor, be one and inseparable."

The population of the United States from 1900 to 1910 increased 21 per cent. The number of cattle in the United States on June 1, 1900, was 67,719,000; on April 15, 1910, 61,501,000. The number of hogs in the United States in 1900 was 62,568,000; in 1910 it was 58,156,000. Is there any wonder that the cost of meat products is higher? Is there any wonder that the greatest problem before the nation today is the encouragement of the agricultural interests so that they may grow sufficient means to feed the growing population?—Commercial Tribune.

SOMETHING WORTH SEEING.

Buffalo Bill-Pawnee Bill Elaborate World-Life Pictures.

The Cavalier, the prancing pride of ages; the founder of nations and dynasties was the mounted warrior, that found the enemy, flanked the foe or led the charges that are most famed in history, song and story.

From ancient times down to our own when not in war, the honors of the chase and the glory of the tournament were the prizes of the expert horseman.

To these days, when the whisper of "rush the cavalry to the Rio Grande" has been the figures that creates the greatest admiration, even in the International Horse-Show, the race field, as the gentleman jockey, or across country, over hedges, wall, fence and ditch.

In the Buffalo Bill-Pawnee Bill elaborate a comprehensive history is exhibited in horsemanship in its every possible phase by the most expert from the wild horse riding cowboy, the Arab, the Indian, the world's Rough Riders, the military, the trained scholars of Haute Ecole, the Russian cosack, the Japanese, to the high hurdling thoroughbreds of the fox hunt, to the tried and world recognized exponent of a graceful seat in the saddle—William F. Cody, Buffalo Bill.

When or where has such a compendium of the equestrian art been possible to witness, at one sitting, as the variegated group of native, natural and disciplined riders gathered in one arena to show the street-car patron and foot-man of today the speediest method of transportation before the advent of the railroad and to it, the destructive strides of the "bike," the "electric" and the "auto?"

Certainly the last representative of the class that led the Crusaders, won fame for the Saracens, secured victory for Genghis Khan, created triumph for Charlemagne, were Frederick the Great's reliance, carried Napoleon over the Alps, into Egypt; where most prolific adepts, the Cossacks, threw him back from Moscow and engraved Schamyl's name among the renowned. It was the Irish lancers and British made Light Horse Harry Lee and Marion and his men immortal, Sheridan Custer, Jeb Stuart, Hampton, Kilpatrick, Mosby, Pleasanton, "Stonewall" Jackson, Merritt, Miles and their kind heroic figures in history. A class of warrior, of doubtful future, whose glory may be fast fading before scientific methods in war, while the majority of the rest of horsemanship are exiting from the stage of action and are threatened to be soon relegated to the antique.

COTTON CROP CONDITIONS

WESTERN BELT FAR AHEAD OF THE EASTERN.

In East Only Small Portion of Crop Is Open—Little Fear of Frost Damage.

Memphis, Sept. 22.—The Commercial Appeal tomorrow will say, in its weekly summary of the season of cotton crop conditions:

There are two distinct divisions of the cotton crop this year, and conditions are so widely different in each as to render it necessary to consider them separately. West of the Mississippi river the crop has gone on in good shape for nearly the entire season. The plant is well advanced and much picking already has been done. Taken as a whole, the crop on that side of the stream is from 60 to 75 per cent opened, although in Oklahoma there is probably more late cotton than in any other state. Much of this is in danger of frost. In the west the plant is heavily fruited—most correspondents estimate as heavily as last year. In the east only a small portion of the crop is open, although it is estimated that a very small portion is in danger of frost of average date, except in Tennessee, where the plant is still vigorous. The plant over the entire section is late, but has not fruited heavily, estimates placing it from 50 to 75 per cent of last year, and as there is little promise of a top crop, it is believed that picking, when once well started, will not last for long. The insect damage to the crop has been small when compared with other years. Considerable boll weevil have appeared in Mississippi and Louisiana, but a fairly good crop was made before their appearance. Elsewhere the damage from insects has been negligible.

In this, the last, weekly report of the Commercial Appeal for the season, correspondents size up the crop about like this:

Carolina—Crop much below last year; little in danger of frost.

Georgia—Crop very short; from 50 to 65 per cent of last year; almost no danger of frost.

Alabama—Estimates average fruitage at about two-thirds of last year.

Mississippi—Crop very spotted; some sections expect good crop, others poor, but nearly all below last year.

Tennessee and Missouri—Good crop promise, but it is late and in danger from frost.

Arkansas—Much diversity of opinion, but generally below last year.

Oklahoma—Almost all estimates for best yield in state; little fear of frost.

Texas—Average about the same as last year.

The tendency of incoming foreigners is to concentrate in the already thickly populated states of the east. The census of 1910 enumerated in the United States 13,345,545 white persons of foreign birth, of whom almost exactly 5,000,000 had reached this country between January 1, 1901 and the taking of the census. The new arrivals formed 37.5 per cent of the whole number of the foreign-born whites. Among the Middle Atlantic states the proportion of the newcomers is greatest in Pennsylvania, but in each of the other states of this division, their proportion is greater than in the country at large. States where the foreign born have received comparatively few accession by the immigration of recent years, and where the older immigrants represent at least three-fourths of all the foreign born, are: Arkansas, Kansas, Kentucky, Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

According to the officials of the Navy Department the naval show in New York City from October 12 to 15 will be the greatest event of its kind ever held. Every class of fighting ship, from the great superdreadnaught of the Wyoming and Arkansas type down to the little submarine, will be on exhibition. An innovation of the mobilization this year will be about a half dozen vessels of the navy loaned to the different states, for the use of the organized naval militia, all officered and manned by naval militia. There will be about 30,000 officers and men with the fleet. Admiral Hugo Osterhaus will be in command. The entire fleet will number about eighty vessels, consisting of thirty-two battleships, four armored cruisers, three scout cruisers, twenty torpedo-boat destroyers, nine submarines and various auxiliaries.

The Telephone Review says there were approximately 12,453,000 telephones and 39,546,000 miles of telephone wire in use in the world January 1, 1911. This is an increase of 10 per cent in telephones and 19 per cent in wire. A careful estimate places the world's telephone investment January 1, 1912, at about $1,729,000,000, which is very nearly the value of all the gold coin and bullion in the United States. The year 1911 was the thirty-fifth since the invention of the telephone by Prof. Alexander Graham Bell. During the past year, the long-distance telephone service of the world has received notable extensions. In the United States commercial service was opened between New York City and Denver, 2,160 miles, this being the longest distance over which oral communication is given commercially.

CRISIS IN CUBA NEAR AT HAND

TREASURY EMPTY AND GOVERNMENT IS UNABLE TO GET MORE FUNDS.

BILLS PASSED UP UNPAID

Financial and Political Perils Cause Gomez to Make Extraordinary Efforts to Solve Problem.

Havana, Sept. 22.—It is felt generally here that Cuba is approaching a crisis in its history as a republic. Two serious questions occupy the public mind—can Cuba survive the present state of her finances; can she hold an honest and orderly election for the presidency, with a loyal submission of the defeated party to the will of the majority?

That the treasury is empty; that the last dollar of the $16,500,000 Spanish loan has been spent, while the work of sewerage and paving Havana, the principal purpose for which the plan was authorized by the United States, is not only not far finished, but in danger of interruption, if not of abandonment; that the government is at its wits' end to find money to meet its vast expenditures, while receipts from customs and the lottery have reached their lowest point—all this is asserted by the enemies of the government and most of it is frankly admitted by all.

Everywhere it is asked how long can this state of affairs continue?

Last month the government defaulted, for the first time, on the account due to the sewerage and paving contractors for work done in July, amounting to about $450,000. The government declared that it found itself unable to meet the bill, simply because it had no more money. The contractors appealed to the American legation and sufficient pressure was brought to bear to convince the government that payment was imperative. Then the money was forthcoming.

Gomez Works on Problem.

There has been much speculation as to whether the government will be able to satisfy the claims of the contractors due towards the end of this month, but there are indications that President Gomez, realizing fully the peril of another default, has made an extraordinary effort and will be prepared to meet the obligation and thus tide over the crisis for another month. The press continues to be filled with pessimistic articles bewailing the financial and political perils that beset the republic. Careful estimates show that the Gomez administration has spent during its two and a half years of power at least $160,000,000. Experts declare that the only hope for Cuba lies in cutting down her expenses at least 50 per cent.

The present aspect of the political situation appears to justify reasonable expectations that Gen. Mario Menocal can carry the election, especially as he has just formed an alliance with the wing of the liberal party under the leadership of Gen. Ernesto Asbert, governor of Havana province. The chances of Vice President Zaya's election appear to be diminishing, although his following is still strong.

Bid for Negro Vote.

Both conservatives and liberals are making strong bids for the negro vote, the former endeavoring to excite the animosity of the negroes against the liberals owing to the fatalities to men of their race during the last insurrection in Oriente, and the latter endeavoring to placate them by promises of unconditional pardon to the thousands of negro prisoners now confined in the jails.

The association of veterans, under the leadership of Gen. Emilio Nunes, which has hitherto stood fast for non-partisan purification of the government and the "Cubanization" of the civil service, now seems to be in a bad way of being badly split along party lines, but whether to the advantage of one side or the other does not yet appear. The election is to be held November 1 and the new president will be inaugurated May 20.

In a recent address, Bishop Edwin Hughes, of the Methodist Episcopal church, said the modern apartment house is a tragedy, and declared the common dining-room and the common kitchen of the new apartment house rob the home of its privacy and the separateness indispensable to real home life. The home should always be the social unit, in the opinion of the distinguished bishop, and the breaking up of this unit is deplorable and actually threatens the proper moral and intellectual training of the coming generations. Under improved economic conditions, Bishop Hughes says, much of the labor which formerly devolved upon the housewife has been removed. She no longer makes her own cloth, and is able to have ready-made clothing for her children. But this lightening of the actual physical labors should, in Bishop Hughes' opinion, leave the mother free to give more time to the intellectual training of her family. She should also give more time to the religious and moral training of her children and any mother who fails to offer such training in the home is neglecting her most sacred duty.—Nashville Tennessean.

Fighting in Nicaragua.

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, Sept. 22.—The government reports that a revolutionary force, active in the capital of the department of the same name about 40 miles from Matagalpa. After two hours' fighting the insurgents were beaten off. The report also said a government force defeated the revolutionists near Momotombo, at the western extremity of Lake Managua, capturing 100 horses.

THE WHY AND WHEREFORE

This year's exhibition may well be regarded as the one close to finality BECAUSE IT IS BIGGER, BETTER THAN EVER

Embodied here are the crowning efforts of two authoritative personages whose lives have been devoted to exemplary historical entertainment BECAUSE THEY HAVE TRIED TO EXCEL

Standing superbly alone on an eminence, defining a path, untrammelled by precedent

BECAUSE IT HAS NO COUNTERPART

Throughout its existence it has adhered to the square deal, and proved the profit that lies therein

BECAUSE IT IS NOVEL AND INTERESTING

Behind its success is the unexampled degree of efficiency and the victorious elements, knowledge, experience and public approbation

BECAUSE IT NEVER FAILS TO INSTRUCT

Every progressive creation an inspiration for a finer effort and greater achievements BECAUSE IT ALWAYS PRESENTS SOMETHING NEW

Bringing the races of the earth into closer contact, strengthening the relations of general brotherhood of mankind

BECAUSE OF ITS CONGRESS OF NATIONS

In the tapestry of life are woven threads of every color, draping warmth and veracity around ardent exploits

BECAUSE IT IS CLOTHED IN REALISM

Reaching the summit of excellence by the exercise of indelible confidence, indefatigable patience and inexorable fidelity to ideals and traditions

BECAUSE IT IS TRUE TO NATURE

Time is fast obliterating from the face of nature the figures of the west composing its chief characteristics and historic interest

BECAUSE OF THE PROGRESS OF CIVILIZATION

Disclosing most prolific development this year in fields hitherto undreamed and presenting "Pioneer Events in Frontier Days." A wordless drama adequately staged, scenically mounted with fully 1,000 participants

WITH BUFFALO BILL THE ORIGINATOR AT THE HEAD

Intensive Spectacles, Olympic Games, Fox Hunting, Rides, Skiffing Contests, with Many Added Famous Foreign and Domestic Displays. The Zenith of Exhilarating Interpretations Beyond Which It Is Impossible to Go

Sunday in Waco Churches

Interesting Sermons are Spoken by Various Waco Pastors—
Bible Teachings are Applied to Practical Things of Today

Basing his sermon upon the first ten verses of Luke xix, which relates the story of the conversion of Zacchaeus, "chief among the publicans, and he was rich," Rev. C. D. Whiteman, pastor of the Third Street Baptist church, yesterday morning delivered an earnest plea to his congregation to respond to the call of the Savior.

Introducing his subject, he referred to Jericho, the scene of the Bible story, as a city filled with priests, and referred to the name "Zacchaeus," which means "pure."

He drew lessons from the text, stating that if a man would be saved he must not stand on pride nor his station in life. He referred to Zacchaeus, who was rich, but who, when he could not see Jesus through the press of people about him, climbed into a sycamore tree and there gained his object.

If people repent of their sins, he said, the fact is evidenced by their confessions and by their after lives. Salvation, he declared, meant a real change in every life.

The truly saved man, the pastor pointed out, bears fruit, and he cited the first act of Zacchaeus when he was converted was to make a donation from his wealth to the needy. The saved man believes in practical restitution.

He concluded with the thought that no person is too great a sinner to receive mercy and pardon, saying that Christ stands ever ready to welcome the truly repentant person.

The night sermon dwelt upon the fact that he who does no good necessarily does evil in this world, the sins of omission being as large in the sight of the Lord as the sins of commission.

MORROW STREET METHODIST.

Success in Life Depends on Some Sensible, Serious Effort.

Text: "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."—Psalm 126, verse 6.

A single thought ran through the sermon of Rev. A. D. Porter at the Morrow street Methodist church yesterday morning when he impressed upon the members of his congregation that success in religion as well as in life depends upon sane, sensible and serious effort.

Analyzing his text, he showed in real life that the young man who goes forth hilariously and frivolously upon a business venture, is likely to return weeping, while he who goes forth sanely, sensibly and seriously, and pays due attention to his work and is earnest in attaining success, comes back, "bringing his sheaves with him."

"How much more necessary is it for a man to go forth in the proper way in seeking the salvation of his own soul than in seeking the riches of the world," concluded the pastor.

ELM STREET METHODIST.

Pastor Creed Uses Sentence from the Lord's Prayer as Text.

Text: "Our Father which art in Heaven"—Lord's Prayer.

God's relation to man, man's relation to God, and man's relation to his fellow were the three general divisions into which the morning sermon of Rev. J. J. Creed, pastor of the Elm street Methodist church, was divided.

The first clause in the Lord's prayer, the pastor declared, shows God's relation to us, "Father," it shows that he is behind our creation and has an interest in each of us.

It further reveals what we are to God—his children—and since all are his children, should grow in affection and reverence for Him. Obedience is one of the virtues of the child.

Use of the word "Our" denotes man's relation to his fellow. Each time a man says the prayer, said the pastor, he gathers together all of the peoples of the earth and prays God's blessing upon them as his brothers.

Heaven he likened to a great and perfect home, where peace and love reigned supreme.

At the night service the pastor took the five foolish virgins, weaving in for each of the virgins a foolish feature in the lives of the young women of today. He arranged them as follows:

First—Premature entrance of girls into society.

Second—Women who continually talk but say little.

Third—Those versed in the frills of life but ignorant of domestic science and the serious problems of existence.

Fourth—Women who are too much "on the go" who do not take time for their home duties.

Fifth—The women who entrust too much of their affection to the care of unworthy men.

CLAY STREET METHODIST.

Each Christian is a Watchman to Give Warning.

Text: "Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word of my mouth and give them warning from me."—Ezekiel iii, 17.

That each Christian is a watchman, charged with the responsibility of carrying out the messages from Christ, was the statement of the Rev. J. N. McCain, pastor of the Clay street Methodist church, at the morning service yesterday.

He declared the watchman's first duty is to hear the voice of God and receive his orders from the Master.

The second is to warn the people of their danger.

Third, he declared that if the wicked reject the warning and fall, their blood is upon their own heads, the responsibility being taken from the shoulders of the watchman when he delivers an earnest warning. If the watchman fails to warn the people, he declared, their blood is upon his head.

The pastor's sermon at night was upon the subject, "The World's Greatest Love Story." His text was taken from John iii-16, "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

BROOK AVENUE BAPTIST.

Waco a Favorable Site for the Devil's Work.

Text—Joel iii, 3—"And they have cast their lots for my people and have given a boy for an harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink."

"Who's Who," was the general subject of the sermon preached last evening by the Rev. J. F. Harrell, of the Brook Avenue Baptist church, and he discussed those leaders whom he declares are making Waco a favorable site for the devil's work.

He began by speaking of the insidious manner in which the devil secures souls. He dubbed Satan a cunning gambler. He spoke of the influences permitted in the city by those who run it, but mentioned no names, nor did he attack any specific persons.

He declared that no one could say who would be won in the game which the devil is playing, but he said conditions in this city are being made favorable for him and he quietly goes ahead and completes the work.

After dwelling upon the many phases of evil in the city, Mr. Harrell asked the personal question: "Which side will you be on?"

The saloon was one of the points of attack and Mr. Harrell declared that each man who helped keep the traffic alive here was "Who's Who" in Waco and responsible for all the attendant evils, the outgrowth of the saloon.

By rising, the congregation which packed the house, endorsed the pastor's stand.

WILL DISCUSS UNION TONIGHT.

Baraca-Philathes Will Meet at Clay Street Church.

Whether there will be formed at a convention which is proposed to call to meet in Waco during October, a state union of the Baraca-Philathes union, will be decided at a meeting of the Waco union to be held at Clay Street Methodist church at 8 o'clock tonight.

At this time officers for the ensuing year will be selected also.

There is some doubt existing whether it is an opportune time to launch a movement for a statewide union, and this will be fully determined by a report of the committee appointed to investigate this matter. This committee will report tonight.

James Alexander, chairman, is out of the city, but is expected this morning. A preliminary report has been prepared, but another meeting of the committee will be held just prior to the general meeting tonight, when it is expected this report may be changed to some extent. For this reason no part of the report is made public.

James Jenkins, president of the union, stated yesterday that there was some doubt as to whether the organization of a state union will be called at this time.

The Waco union is one of the largest and most active in the state, and should such a call go forth it will in all probability emanate from the Waco union.

An interesting program of entertainment has also been prepared for this evening.

DIES IN HER CHAIR

MRS. S. A. BOLGER PASSES AWAY VERY SUDDENLY.

Had Lived a Quarter of a Century in This County—Heart Disease Is Cause of Death.

An hour after partaking of a hearty breakfast and while seated in a chair conversing with a relative, Mrs. S. A. Bolger, aged 70 years, died suddenly of heart disease at her home, 725 Washington street, yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Bolger had resided in Waco about three years, and prior to coming to this city she had made her home at Bosqueville, coming to that place from her native state of Alabama nearly a quarter of a century ago. She is survived by one son, William Bolger, of this city, and a number of relatives at Bosqueville. She was a member of the Baptist church.

The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock this morning from the residence, Rev. F. J. Harrell officiating. The interment will be in Oakwood cemetery.

Harold Willig Eichelberger.

Harold Willig Eichelberger, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eichelberger, died yesterday morning at the home of his grand parents on the corner of Sixteenth and Vermont streets. The body will be taken to the family cemetery at the farm owned by the parents 12 miles west of this city and the funeral will be at the grave.

DARKEY OF THE OLDEN TIME UNDER A BED

"UNCLE BEN" AND HIS FIDDLE ARE ANTE-BELLUM REMINDERS.

DELIGHT TO THE CHILDREN

One of the Rare Specimens of the Old South Who Makes Waco His Home.

Hang up de fiddle and de bow, Hang up de fiddle and de bow, Cause there's no more work for poor Uncle Ned, He's gone where de good darkies go.

Or you may hear this tune: "Weep no more, my lady, Oh, weep no more today, We'll sing one song, for the old Kentucky home, For the old Kentucky home far away."

And then this air may be wafted to you by the evening breeze: "Swing the girl that bakes the pies, Swing the girl with the goo-goo eyes, Trail your partner round the hall, Swing 'em all, boys, swing 'em all."

And followed by this: "Here's to the girl from Arkansas, She can saw more wood than her paw can saw, She can dance all night till broad day light, And chew more tobacco than her maw can chew."

Alternately playing and tuning, with the tuning getting the greater part of the attention by a huge majority, "Uncle Ben," an old Waco darkey, has ceased to be a personage; he has developed into an institution. Almost every evening except Sunday, "for I wasn't raised that way, Cap'n," he explains, Uncle Ben stands in the stable door at the rear of the home of Col. A. Symes, Twelfth and Washington streets, can be seen entertaining a crowd of the neighborhood children. Business men, young people on their way down town for the evening and many others, stop to hear him. He has been playing almost every evening except Sunday for the past 20 years, and should he fail to appear, his absence would occasion comment.

When his work as caretaker is done for the day, he goes to the stable, gets his old fiddle, and proceeds to "tune up." Then old familiar tunes begin floating around the neighborhood, and the residents say, "There's Uncle Ben."

After playing several old selections, always accompanied by more or less interruption, occasioned by "tuning," Uncle Ben begins playing real music. It's always the same tune. One night he calls it "Brazos Bottom," the next evening it will be "Eighth of January," Wednesday night, or is it Thursday, he will swear he is playing "Granny Will Your Dog Bite?" Friday night, "Arkansas Traveler," is the tune and Saturday night he calls it something else.

The "Aria" if you please, is the same from Monday night to Saturday night. It's a droning, lazy sound, that carries one back to the memory of the old days before the war. One can close the eyes and imagine seeing long rows of negro cabins with the "white folks" watching the antics of the blacks. One can almost sight the "local color," whatever that is; you begin imagining slavery was never abolished; you think that an old colonial "bet-o-de-wat" mansion is your home; you think of you, think of negroes patting and keeping time, you are just about to reach the seventh heaven of delight with that tune running "through your head" when Uncle Ben is seized with a violent attack or desire to "tune up" and the concert is ended until a few groans, squeals and chords satisfy the player that "de little string" has again been brought to the proper pitch.

Occasionally, some of the auditors take the "fiddle" for Uncle Ben's own violin, and play some selections of their own. Uncle Ben, his old face shining, stands with eyes open with amazement, or his countenance wreathed with smiles, and an interested listener. You ask the rest of his name. He hasn't any now and if he ever had, it was lost in the shuffle years ago. He claims to be 85 years old, and this assertion is based on some calculation with "Gen." Sam Houston and Santa Anna's war, as he expresses it. He was born a slave in Arkansas and removed to Texas at an early day. One brother, he thinks, is still living, and is thought to be in Cuba.

Notice of Birth.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Anderson, 2425 Sanger avenue, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, an eleven-pound boy.

NEGRO HIDES UNDER A BED

CHILDREN LYING ON A PALLET DISCOVER THE UNWELCOME GUEST.

ESCAPES THROUGH DOOR

Is Pursued by Joe Ellis, the Man of the Family, Who Fires Several Shots.

A scream from two children as they lay on a pallet beside the bed to go to sleep last night, raised the alarm at the home of Joe Ellis, an Italian storekeeper who lives near the corner of First street on Jones, and a big negro made hasty exit from under the bed, ran for the side door of the house, and burst through the screen, making his escape.

Ellis, hearing the noise and being told its cause by his wife, caught up his pistol, followed the man into the alley and fired two shots at his disappearing form as the latter ran.

That the negro will be caught within a short time, is the belief of the police who have a clue as to his identity and will leave no stone unturned to land the man in the county jail.

It seems that the man made his entrance into the home shortly after dark by slipping a small hole in the screen door at the side of the house, through which he put his hand and lifted the catch.

He then hid himself under the bed, prepared to wait there until the family had gone to sleep, according to the theory, when he expected to secure such money and valuables as he could find, and make good his escape by the side door.

Meantime, some member of the family had gone to the side door and finding the catch unfastened, had again fastened it, presumably without the knowledge of the negro. No one noticed that a slit had been made near the latch at the time.

When the alarm was given, thinking the door was still unlocked, it is believed, the negro hurried himself against it in an effort to reach the alley, and struck with such force that he tore a hole through the door, landing outside.

The affair occurred about 8 o'clock in the evening, and it is believed that the man had hid himself shortly after dark.

FEAST OF THE TABERNACLE

THURSDAY IS FIRST OF EIGHT FESTIVAL DAYS.

Jewish People Give It Observance. Something of an Important Time of Worship.

Next Thursday, Succoth, or the Feast of the Tabernacle, will be celebrated by the Jews.

Succoth falls on the fifteenth day of the seventh month, Tishri, which this year comes on Thursday, Sept. 26. The festival lasts eight days, the final day being known as the Feast of Conclusion. Only the first and last days are regarded as days of sacred character, whereupon public assemblage and worship are held. Succoth is in character a harvest festival. Scripturally it is known as the "Feast of Ingathering," and is ordained in Exodus xxiii, 16, and xxvii, 22. Historically it is associated with the journey of the Israelites through the wilderness, when they lived in tents, or temporary habitations. In Leviticus xxiii, 42, it is commanded that the Israelites shall "dwell in booths seven days" in commemoration of the fact that Israel dwelt in booths when God brought them up out of Egypt, hence the name the feast of Tabernacles or Booths.

After the destruction of the national existence of the Jews the festival gradually assumed the character of a modern harvest festival, of a religious nature, in which stress is laid upon the Providence of God, as evidenced in the richness and bounty of nature. Here again the high ideal of Judaism is taught in the Conception of God as the Supreme Lord of all, and in contrast to the idolatry, whether ancient or modern, that defies the forces of nature or nature itself. The fruitfulness of the soil, the teeming bounty of the earth, the Jew is reminded, are the gifts of the great Giver and Author of all life. Hence, gratitude is due to Him alone. Man, in the midst of his many blessings, is to rejoice before, and to give praise to Him, the supreme and all-governing Creator. The synagogues are decorated with fruits and flowers and products of the field, and the whole service of the festival is replete with the joyous, grateful recognition of the divine goodness and blessing.

ONE MEXICAN IS KILLED

ANOTHER OF HIS RACE IS SUFFERING WITH WOUNDS.

Police Unable to Get Participants in the Early Morning Riot to Tell the Details.

A riot, supposed to have been the result of a shooting, between negroes and Mexicans early Sunday morning in a house on Webster, near the corner of First street, resulted in the death of Torio Amato, who recently came to Waco from Mexico, and the wounding of at least one other of the dead man's race. No arrests have been made.

A story told by several of the Mexicans who were on the scene that they were held up and robbed while on their way home is given little credence by the police, and a personal investigation of the premises by Night Chief Frater led to the belief that the trouble started over a crap game.

When the police reached the scene Amato lay on the floor of a room, bleeding from gashes in the face, head, arms and stomach. The walls of the place were covered with blood and the place looked as if it were a shambles.

The police are still working on several clues in their possession in an effort to clear up the matter, though reliance upon the part of those who ought to be able to give information has hampered their investigation up to this point. It is believed that several arrests will be made within the next few days.
